

Keith Chanter

Chief Executive Officer

Keith joined EMCOR UK in 2007 as Chief Financial Officer and was promoted to Chief Executive in 2008. An industrial economist by background, Keith trained as an accountant and then spent years in an accountancy practice before moving into industry where he gained experience of financial and executive roles in sectors such as Chemicals, Process Engineering, Aviation, EPC and Facility Services. Throughout this experience, Keith has developed a critical understanding of how to deliver higher performance from a financial perspective, whilst balancing this with running a responsible business with fairness and inclusivity as key principles alongside preserving safety and security. Keith sees these as the key foundations for delivering outstanding customer service, whilst also providing enriching employment for all colleagues.

A better world at work for Keith means, that we preserve the beauty of our planet for future generations and a world in which all species, particularly humans, lead a joyful life where they can be their whole self and achieve their dreams without fear of discrimination.

Outside of work Keith enjoys photography, motorcycling, cycling and coaching others to achieve their cycling goals.
